

Is this the best snow family EVER?

In building a snowman, most people would be content with a big round blob for the body, a smaller one for the head, a nose made of carrot and twigs for arms. In Bristol, things are done with a little more refinement.

This couple and their dog were spotted on a bench looking out toward the city's famous Suspension Bridge. Are the trio supposed to be Wallace, Gromit and Wendolene? It's possible, given that Aardman Animations is one of the city's best known residents.
